Meet Your New President

WMRRA Racer: Seppi Hutter

Race Number: #22

Lives in Kirkland, WA

When did you start and how did you get into racing?

I started racing in 2020. 2 years prior I had bought a Blue Triumph Daytona 675 from our chief tech Paul McComsey. Paul asked me if I had been to the track before with a cheeky grin and here we are!

What bike(s) do you ride/classes do you race in?

2015 Yamaha R3 in ULW SS and ULW GP; 2022 Yamaha R7 in MW SBK and MW GP

What have been your greatest accomplishments in racing?

Earning multiple top-three finishes in class championships in ULW with WMRRA, along with a third-place championship finish in CVMA during the winter season.

What do you tend to work on the most, what do you struggle with?

1) Braking: Trying to be as late as possible in the [slower corners] and then less braking everywhere else #Littlebikeproblems. 2) Body positioning: I received training from our Rider Rep, Don Williams [I listed that towards the top of things I wanted to focus on, he wanted that more towards the middle]. After the first session, he said "ok, looks like we are putting body position back to the top"

What advice did you receive when you first started that you found to be the most helpful?

Every time you go on track, always have a plan on what you are going to be working on. Even if it's just going slow to shake off some rust, focus on hitting apex's. Having a plan sharpens your focus and blocks out the noise. Slow is Smooth, Smooth is Fast

What would you tell someone who wants to race or is just getting started?

Don't be afraid to ask questions or for help. Everyone in the paddock was a beginner at one point and are willing to help, or point you in the direction of help—Just get on the grid! At first racing can feel daunting or out of reach but after that first race you get more and more comfortable. I'm not sure I've met anyone that said they started racing TOO soon.

What does WMRRA mean to you?

It brings me so much pride to be a part of WMRRA and motorcycle racing in general because of racers' commitment to the sport and others in the community. I've seen racers repair their competitors' bikes well past midnight, knowing it's possible that the bike will beat them the next day. When I walk around the paddock it always amazes me to see the different types of people that go racing. It's just a really rewarding and fun organization to be a part of.

Meet Your New 1st VP– Race Director

WMRRA Racer: Dion LaBlue

Race Number: #61

Lives in Brier, WA

When did you start and how did you get into racing?

I got into racing in 2018 after doing some spirited road rides with some fellow racers that said I'd enjoy racing. Prior to that it was motocross and a lot of desert riding.

What bike(s) do you ride/classes do you race in?

I haven't officially raced since 2023, but when I did I entered every race I could on my 2008 R6. I ran it cripple triple, so 450sbk and MW GP as well.

What have been your greatest accomplishments in racing?

Actually taking the plunge and racing was the biggest one as well as completing the first race. That feeling as a novice is hard to beat. Honestly, even with the podiums, staying consistent and improving over time has been the most rewarding and I consider that the greatest accomplishment.

What do you tend to work on the most, what do you struggle with?

Starts are one of the most important aspects of racing I've focused on. Outside of that it's little things like tire pressures, suspension, and overall setup that I'm constantly tweaking. The struggle is real especially with the PNW weather.

What advice did you receive when you first started that you found most helpful?

Two things: 1. Ride your own race, not someone else's. 2. You have every right to be on track. Fight to stay on it (feel free to ask me for more context on this in the pits).

What would you tell someone who wants to race or is just getting started?

Start with track days before committing to a race license, invest in good gear before a fast bike, and find a mentor or group (like 2 Fast).

Don't be shy at the track..introduce yourself and make friends. The community makes the learning curve so much easier.

What does WMRRA mean to you?

WMRRA has been the community that turned a hobby into a passion, and has been a second family to me (sometimes a first). It's more than just racing. It's about participating in one of the greatest sports with other people who share the same passion. WMRRA makes that happen.
